REPORT OF SCHOOL BOARD, 1896.

Agreeably to the requirements of the law, the School Board submits the following report:

The money you have put in our hands has been judiciously expended according to our best ability for the best interest of all the schools in town. To select suitable teachers and aid them the needed assistance requires a combination of rare qualities. No office of the town is of greater importance than that which has relation to the superintendence of schools, and in order to keep the schools in a flourishing and active condition the parents must co-operate with the teachers. They must feel and manifest an active interest during the term. It is in their power greatly to aid or entirely counteract the labors of the best teachers.

Much might be said in governing schools. While some govern too much, others govern too little; but they who govern by a motion of the finger or a glance of the eye, or some silent reproof, are the most successful. It is of great importance in having the educators of our children qualified and adapted for their work. The young mind needs to be cared for and educated by those who understand its motives, its powers and the peculiarities of each pupil, especially in the lower grades. One of the most essential benefits to be derived by the town is to see that a proper amount of funds are appropriated to give your children a good practical education. Nothing gives a town a better name than good schools and well kept schoolhouses.

Therefore let the people, whether they have children or not, do all they can to promote the best educational interest of the children at the present day that they may be prepared to fill any station of life which may be required of them as they leave the home of childhood to earn their living and enter the active duties of good citizenship.
